The Principal's Post

Cecilia Methvin

During the Catholic Schools' Week Mass with Bishop Duca on January 29th, the Gospel was a familiar one about seeds falling on all kinds of ground and what can happen to those seeds depending on where they land. Bishop Duca engaged the children in discussion about what seeds need in order to grow into healthy plants. They mentioned all the right things; water, air, soil. Children are like those seeds. They need the right combination of factors to grow and be healthy. What touched me about his homily, though, is that he said you can have all those factors and 'grow' a healthy child, but a Catholic education enriches that soil in a special way. I love that analogy. I hope you can join us for our school Mass at 8:00 am on February 19th where we will welcome Bishop Duca to Sacred Heart. He will say Mass and then tour the school, visiting classrooms and talking with students and teachers.

I ask that you please keep the family of Rebecca Alexander, known to our community as "Miss Becky," in your prayers. Miss Becky passed away very suddenly on Saturday afternoon. She was our cafeteria manager for many years and would do anything our community asked of her. Miss Becky was instrumental in assisting our Men's Club with Fall Fest, as well as the Grandsons-sons of Italy with the St. Joseph's Altar every year. Miss Becky was back at St. Thomas More this school year, which is where she began her career with Child Nutrition many years ago. She will be missed tremendously by all of us and we pray for her friends and family as they mourn her loss.

Dear Friend of Sacred Heart School,

In 1929, Sacred Heart became Baton Rouge's first church parish to build a school. Ninety years later, the legacy of the Sisters of St. Joseph continues in the rich traditions of Sacred Heart of Jesus School. Our diverse faith community remains committed to providing an environment where children grow in God's love and are educated in their minds, bodies and spirits.

The annual Tiger Gala is instrumental in supporting our mission to provide an environment where each child can reach their full potential. Thanks to the generosity of valued community partners like you and many dedicated volunteers, Sacred Heart Home and School raised over $60,000 at last year's gala! We ask that you prayerfully consider supporting our beloved school and look forward to promoting your business to over 200 attendees at this year's event.

Please return the attached form by Friday, February 21, 2020.
