PRINCIPAL'S POST

By: Cecilia Methvin

What a beautiful Black History Month celebration last Tuesday! If you weren't able to come this year, mark your calendar so you don't miss next year. Thank you to all of our teachers who made this first-ever event so spectacular!

Speaking of events, our next one is this Friday with the 3rd grade Music Performance. All are invited! And don't forget our St. Joseph Altar, which will be next Friday, March 17th. We will celebrate St. Joseph's feast day (March 19th) with an altar on the gym stage. For some history on this practice, click here. The blessing of the altar will take place immediately after Mass at 9:15am in the gym and we invite you all to join us. This is a schoolwide project and each class will be participating in various ways; see page 2 for how each class will contribute. Since our celebration also falls on St. Patrick's Day, students may wear green, red, white or a combination of those colors on Friday, March 17th.

The purpose of our altar is three-fold: to celebrate and honor St. Joseph, the foster father of Jesus, to learn about an important tradition in our region and in our parish, and to help those who are in need with donations to the St. Vincent DePaul food pantry.

JOSEPH'S ALTAR CONTRIBUTIONS:

Pre-K3&4 - Bread baked into shapes (staff, fish, cross, etc.)

Kindergarten and 1st Grade - Coloring project

2nd Grade - Fava bean art project

3rd Grade - Paper lilies project

4th Grade - Food donation- Canned pasta sauce

5th Grade - Represent the Holy Family, Saints, & readings during the blessing

6th Grade - Food donation- canned beans and/or potatoes

7th Grade - Food donation- dried pasta

8th Grade - Fig cookies with cutouts project

Faculty/Staff - Fresh fruits, vegetables, desserts, etc.

Student Council - Altar setup on Thursday

Beta Club - Food pantry delivery on Friday

MARDI GRAS BEADS If you have any leftover beads from parades, please consider donating them to the art department. Ms. Calandro would like them for a project. Thank you!

SACRED HEART OF JESUS ST. VINCENT DE PAUL FOOD PANTRY Sacred Heart of Jesus St. Vincent de Paul Food Pantry is in need of hearty soups, canned ravioli, canned spaghetti & meatballs, chili & tuna. They serve people in need who live within the geographical boundaries of Sacred Heart of Jesus Parish. Food pantry collections are made each Friday during our school liturgy. Students, faculty, and staff donate non-perishable food items and are a major source of donations.

Creating Good Dental Hygiene for Your Children and the Health Problems Caused by Not Brushing Your Teeth

Your dentist has undoubtedly provided the warnings about poor dental hygiene: Tooth decay, tooth loss, gum disease and bad breath. For many adults, the thought of spending hours in a dental chair under a drill is enough to make that message sink in. (Sorry parents who are dentist. You know we love you.) Yet, this does not motivate a child to take better care of their teeth. However, the risks associated with not brushing your teeth go far beyond bad breath and the teeth and gum problems above. Poor dental hygiene can have a profound impact on your health and longevity.

It is all about the bacteria.

It is an unsettling fact. The human mouth – your mouth – is the perfect home for over 700 different strains of bacteria. Most of them are harmless, but a few can cause health problems. The two most likely to cause problems are streptococcus mutans and porphyromonas gingivalis. Streptococcus mutans feeds on sugars and starches in your mouth, producing acid that erodes your enamel and makes you more susceptible to tooth decay. Your mouth provides the right environment for these bacteria to grow and create a variety of health problems.

Five Health Problems Associated with not Brushing Your Teeth

- Heart disease: People with gum disease are twice as likely to have coronary artery disease. Doctors think it results from bacteria in your mouth entering your blood stream. These bacteria attach to plaque in your arteries, which causes inflammation and increases your chances for developing clots and blockages that lead to heart attacks.
- Dementia: Researchers discovered people who don't brush their teeth regularly were up to 65 percent more likely to have dementia. Bacteria associated with poor dental hygiene may cause this problem by spreading to the brain through the cranial nerve that connects to the jaw through the bloodstream.
- Diabetes: People with diabetes are more likely to have gum disease. Poor dental health may increase your risk for insulin-resistance and diabetes because it increases inflammation.
- Pneumonia: If you don't brush your teeth and have an overgrowth of bacteria in your mouth, it's possible to inhale them into your lungs where they can create problems such as pneumonia.
- Pregnancy complications: Expectant mothers with poor dental health have children who are more likely to develop cavities, have lower birth weight and preterm birth. Inflammation and bacteria from the mouth that colonize the placenta through the mother's bloodstream are the likely culprits.

How parents can help their children practice good dental hygiene

- Set a Good Example for Oral Hygiene Often, parents will try to enforce daily brushing without leading by example. Turn brushing into a family event. Set aside a few minutes each day to brush your teeth alongside your child. In addition to brushing, with your child, it is important that your child sees you flossing your teeth. Children naturally replicate what they see.
- Establish a Brushing Routine Early in Life
- Use an Age-Appropriate Toothbrush It is important to use an age-appropriate toothbrush. Most toothbrushes that are available for purchase include a recommended age on the packaging. Important elements are the size of the toothbrush head, the density of the brush, and even the design of the toothbrush handle. Choosing the right tools will make oral hygiene more enjoyable and comfortable for your child.
- No age is too early for establishing a tooth brushing routine. Good dental hygiene begins in infancy. New parents should run a clean, damp soft washcloth over their baby's gums to remove harmful bacteria. This will also get them accustomed to having their mouth cleaned, which will make it easier to establish good dental habits as they age.
- As soon as they begin to develop teeth around six months of age, you can begin to brush their teeth using an age-appropriate toothbrush. Flossing is not necessary or recommended until your child has more teeth. It is usually best to introduce flossing once your child is between two and three years old.
- Introduce your child to the dentist at an early age. It is recommended bringing your child for their first appointment around their first birthday. They may not have many teeth, however, this is still an important milestone. You are establishing an important relationship built on trust and familiarity. Additionally, it is an excellent opportunity to observe the health and development of your child's teeth and gums.

- Children will be ready to start brushing their teeth on their own at different ages.
- Make Oral Hygiene Part of a Daily Routine
It is important to establish toothbrushing twice each day as part of your child's routine.
By brushing your teeth at the same time each day, you fall into a pattern that is easy to follow.
- Brush once in the Morning
Brush shortly after waking up to remove the bacteria and plaque that accumulates during the night.
- Brush your teeth before heading to bed each night.
Failing to remove this debris before sleeping will lead to a greater possibility of developing cavities and decay.
- Associate toothbrushing with another common task.
For instance, they could brush their teeth immediately after getting dressed for the day. At nighttime, it is typical to associate toothbrushing with changing into pajamas.
- Turn Brushing into a Fun Game
Turning brushing into a fun game can make it easier to establish a habit in younger children.
 1. Create a sticker chart young children thrive when there is an incentive. Allow them to place a sticker after each time they brush their teeth.
 2. Read a story to your child. There are many books available that were written specifically for this purpose! Reading a short story will help to pass the time in a way that is enjoyable for your child. You can also pass the time by making up a story each night that is based around tooth brushing.
 3. Play a Song Instead of a Timer. Finding a song to listen to while brushing can help the time fly by! Since most songs are longer than two minutes, this is an easy way to keep an eye on the time while enjoying yourself.
 4. Brush between a commercial break during their favorite show
- Use a Toothbrushing App There are several apps available for children of all ages to incentivize toothbrushing. These apps all provide a built-in timer as well as some form of entertainment to ensure your child is brushing for two minutes each time.
- Allow Them to Select Their Toothbrush. By allowing your child to use a toothbrush they are excited about, you can make toothbrushing a more exciting event for everyone involved!
- Try different flavors of toothpaste. Children have varying tastes and allowing them to use a toothpaste they enjoy can encourage them to brush more consistently.

Talking to a preteens and teenager about brushing his or her teeth takes some form of subtlety.

- This age group tend to be vainer than forward-thinking.
- Long lectures can seem tedious to your teenager and may agitate you as a parent.
- Try not to nag this age group about brushing his or her teeth.
- Most are very conscious about their appearance. Use this to your advantage by appealing to their sense of beauty and image. Remind them that teeth discoloration is not an attractive look for anyone and avoid bad breath which is repulsive and embarrassing to his or her peers.
- Do not use a visit to the dentist as a form of punishment. This can deter the teenager from ever visiting one in the future.

Through it all, I reminded my children that I was giving the gift of a lifetime helping keep their teeth healthy. Also, reading the story about George Washington's struggle with dentures didn't hurt.

Praying that all our children's teeth are pearly white,

Nurse Geri
